Bradley At Municipal Council Meeting

The Sunnyside Municipal Council met in regular session on Tuesday and were busy the entire day with the affairs of this large district. The minutes of the last meeting were read and with the cash statement were accepted, and the monthly pay roll was passed and ordered paid.

Mr. N. H. Bradley District Road Engineer from Lethbridge was present for part of the meeting discussing with the Council road matters as they pertain to this district in connection with the Improvement District to the north of us. The Road Committee of the Board of Trade was also called into the meeting and voiced the Board's opinion respecting the changing of one road in the district.

The graveling program for the year was discussed at considerable length and the decision was reached to gravel the stretch from here to the Welling Junction which has become badly run down, also to lay a fresh coat on the north Stirling road, and a new piece of road will be gravelled from Tommy Hookings' corner north of the Magrath turn west one mile and then three miles south to join the main highway again just west of the elevators in Magrath. This will give an alternate road past Magrath where the high way heaves and sinks and becomes almost impassable every spring, and will be a welcome improvement to all who travel to Cardton.

FEMALE WORKERS' ATTENTION

Lethbridge, Alberta, June 1945—

In order to supply the necessary labor to handle the fruit crop in British Columbia, National Selective Service is making arrangements to move female workers from Alberta and Southwestern Saskatchewan to the province in the near future. A. Smeaton, Manager, local employment Club and the proceeds were to assist and selected service office, Lethbridge, stated today, Mr. Smeaton said that these workers will be needed mainly to pick berries in the Lower Fraser Valley and to work in fruit orchards in the southern interior. Free transportation to B.C. distributing centres will be supplied, and return transportation provided for five dollars. The dates of going and return movements will be announced in a few days.

Mr. Smeaton made it clear that female workers desirous of accepting this work must agree to remain in the employment to which they are referred either by an employment and selective service officer or by the British Columbia Dominion Provincial Farm Labour Service. Although workers will be sent primarily to assist in gathering the fruit crop, there may be times when they will be asked to undertake other work ordinarily performed by women, and no applicant will be accepted unless she is agreeable to this arrangement, he said. Mr. Smeaton also stipulated that workers for this type of employment must be in good health, and between the ages of 18 and 45. Under no circumstances will children be allowed to accompany the workers. However, strong healthy girls of 16 and 17 may be accepted provided their mothers are also proceeding to the same point for employment. Applications are invited from women who are residents in Alberta, and that portion of southwestern Saskatchewan served by local employment and selective service offices at Regina, Moose Jaw, and Swift Current.

Don't forget "Thunderhead" to Cyril Layne gave a vocal solo and night and tomorrow night. A really wonderful picture. Two shows each night and PLEASE come early, as it is by Saturday night.

A WOMAN LOOKS FORWARD TO PEACE

A member of our staff recently asked a young woman, wife of a well-known flight sergeant, what she was looking forward to when final peace comes.

She replied, "Ted and I were married during his two weeks' embarkation furlough. When he left, I went back to making shells. The coming of peace to me means I will get a chance to be a real housewife. I never fancied myself as the career woman. I wanted to make a home. I haven't had much chance so far. But I hope it won't be long now. The last letter I had from Ted he said he had written to his old firm and they deserve. We all realize that only on the foundation of stable employment and the maintenance of a high level of employment can we attain the peace which we are all seeking."

So when Ted begins to work and building materials are released, we can start to build our home. The plans that Ted and I have drawn. Just like a real architect's! Peace will mean that our labour department will release workers from wartime industry to civilian manufacture and we will be able to furnish our home."

"I have pictured it in my mind a thousand times, having breakfast with Ted on the red breakfast table set I once planned to get and which I will be able to buy when they are being manufactured again. I'll be able to use all the lovely things in my cedar chest and the pots and pans given me by my friends. See the plant I am working for with making furniture instead of shells, triglides instead of tanks, and stoves instead of guns. Then Ted and I will be able to get on with what we were meant to be, two Canadian citizens building a home and raising a family."

We left this girl thinking how much there was to be done when the necessity for manufacturing the implements of destruction ceases. The Department of Labour has assured us that thousands of workers will still be needed when final peace comes and has made plans to facilitate their transfer into civilian occupations.

The Department of Labour has turned its thoughts to the new era with the determination to assist the government in carrying out its plans to give our veterans and workers obtain suitable employment which they deserve. We all realize that only on the foundation of stable employment and the maintenance of a high level of employment can we attain the peace which we are all seeking.

Mr and Mrs. Logan McLean and Donald McLean all of Calgary spent three days last week visiting with relatives and friends here.

IT'S A CRIME

These three words sum up the charge made by the Lethbridge Experimental Station regarding soil drifting.

Western farmers have been rightfully incensed by the devastation caused by the war in Europe. We feel that it is criminal that human beings should waste their resources in such a manner. To lay waste a country through war is something that shocks us. And yet here in Western Canada the individual farmer blindly sits back and neglects their own most important resource, the soil, to be laid waste. If it is a crime to blast resources in war, surely it is an equally great crime for us to permit it here.

A few years ago soil drifting was considered a national tragedy and a great program of soil conservation was instituted under the sponsorship of the Dominion Government. Much information on adequate control measures was obtained and has been made available to every individual farmer in Western Canada. For a while it looked as if good progress was being made in controlling the soil but it now appears that this was as much due to the co-operation of nature as to the efforts of man. Any one who has experienced the past two winters in Southern Alberta and has not been completely astounded at the switch must have awakened with a start to the fact that his respects we are no better off than we were ten years ago. The storm of May 10 was without question the most devastating storm we have had in ten years and thousands of acres of crop land were severely affected. Why has this happened? Simply because we are careless.

We can say this on the basis of sound evidence. Fortunately there are individual farmers who truly have seen the seriousness of the problem. These men have used sound farming practices. Their farms stand as oases in the desert. Their land stays put while that of their neighbors disappears in a cloud of dust. Surely if some men can do it we all can. There is nothing mysterious about it, no secret formula, only putting into practice the things that are known.

We hear much talk these days for and against socialization of industries and agriculture and also much criticism of regimentation and regulation in the various fields of private endeavor. Most people object to controls over their individual freedom but one of the surest ways of bringing such controls and regulations into effect is to permit individual freedom to waste our natural resources. Therefore, if the farmers of Western Canada want to continue to be free from such interference they must individually accept the responsibility that rests upon them and put into effect those methods of management that will insure them control of their soil.

This responsibility is not something that can be shoved onto anyone else. It is something that each one must accept as his own. Let us not get a feeling of false security. We criticize all others who in any way, shape, or form, exploit natural resources no matter what they may be. At the same time we neglect our own. This matter is serious and must receive the immediate and continued attention of every man under whose responsibility a piece of Western soil comes. We must not think of ourselves only but of the future generation for which so much has been spent in the way of money and lives during the past few years. It's all well and good to go to war to save Canada for democracy but why let our part of Canada blow away.

Mrs. L. M. Adams returned home Thursday evening after visiting her son Allen, who is seriously ill in the Bassano Hospital, from injuries received when he was dragged by a farmer in Western Canada. For a while it looked as if good progress was being made in controlling the soil but it now appears that this was as much due to the co-operation of nature as to the efforts of man. Any one who has experienced the past two winters in Southern Alberta and has not been completely astounded at the switch must have awakened with a start to the fact that his respects we are no better off than we were ten years ago. The storm of May 10 was without question the most devastating storm we have had in ten years and thousands of acres of crop land were severely affected. Why has this happened? Simply because we are careless.

STILL SCORING

Stanley Maxted, who returned from the First World War to become a well-known Canadian radio reporter in the United States chose the job of radio reporter in World War II. He landed twice with airborne troops in Europe and is soon to be heard in CBC networks covering the war in the Pacific for the BBC.

Information, Thank You

Farmers are provided with plenty of information by professional agriculturists, and it is usually reliable and useful. There may sometimes be a difference between what the professional agriculturist thinks should interest his farmer audience and what actually does.

An enterprising district agriculturist in central Alberta recently attempted to measure the importance of various topics in terms of farmer demand. He distributed a questionnaire containing a list of 24 subjects and asked farmers to indicate beside each subject whether "not interesting," "interesting," "very interesting," "definitely interesting." Nearly 500 farmers completed the form.

From the summary of results it was discovered that the greatest popularity was won by "Control Wild Oats and Canada Thistle," in second place was "Weed Control" and "Floor Prices for Farm Products" made third place. At the other end we find 21st place going to "Bookkeeping," 22nd to "Farmstead Orchard and Garden," 23rd to "Dairy Cattle Improvement" and 24th to "Domestic Poultry Production." Perhaps if the questionnaires had been completed by farm wives, the subjects might have been ranked differently.

Since we have devoted so much attention to weeds during the past five years, it is gratifying to learn that this group of farmers, at least, attaches first importance to weed problems. Unfortunately, since so little money has been expended on weed research and experimentation in Canada, the required information is too often not available. (Take strange weeds to the nearest Line Elevator agent. He will send them to us for identification.)

NOW is the time to BUY COAL

EARLIEST HARBOR OPENING: Captain S. W. Keay, O.B.E., a six-year veteran of the wartime Merchant Navy from Canadian Pacific Steamships and survivor of two sinkings, here receives the stick he won by bringing the Gaietean Park into Montreal on April 9, a full day earlier than navigation for ocean vessels ever had been opened before in that port. Watching Alexander Ferguson, port manager, National Harbors Board, make the presentation is Captain Edmund Aikman, assistant to the chairman of C.P.S.S., and himself a former winner of the stick. To Captain Keay's left is Chief Engineer T. M. Atkinson, M.B.E., of the Gaietean Park, another of the more than 6,000 Canadian Pacific sailors now serving the Admiralty in the Battle of Supply. The decorations of Officer and Member in the Order of the British Empire won by the captain and chief engineer of the Gaietean Park are among 71 such awards and mentions in despatches on the C.P.S.S. honor roll for gallantry at sea. Captain Keay was serving in the 42,000-ton Empress of Britain and the Duchess of York when they were sent to the bottom, as two of 12 Canadian Pacific vessels lost by enemy action. On D-Day the winner of Montreal's "Gaietean" prize this year was a berthing officer at Southampton and prior to this he had brought the invasion troop carrier, Empire Lance, from the American west coast, where she was built, to her station for the assault on Normandy.

A BETTER SERMON

I'd rather see a sermon than to hear one any day, I'd rather one would walk with me, than merely show the way. The eye's better pupil, and more willing than the ear, Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear. And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds, For to see the good in action is what everybody needs. I can soon learn how to do it if you'll let me see it done. I can watch your hand in action, but your tongue too fast may run; And the lectures you deliver may be wise and true; But I'd rather get my lesson by observing what you do, For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give, But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live. —Harold T. Johnson.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED YOUR CHILDREN FOR # FAMILY ALLOWANCES?

1,200,000 FAMILIES have already registered for Family Allowances. Approximately 100,000 families who are entitled to register and who will benefit, have not yet registered.

Family Allowances cheques will be mailed in July.

If you want to receive your first cheque, register now. If you delay your registration any longer, it may not be possible to deal with your application in time to send you the first cheque.

If you have children under 16 and if your income is under $3,000 a year, you will benefit from Family Allowances. If you have not registered, and intend to do so, please act at once! Family Allowances Registration forms have been mailed to every family. They can be obtained at the nearest post office or by writing to the Regional Director of Family Allowances in the capital of your province.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND INCOME TAX

When the Family Allowances Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child.

Family Allowances cheques will be paid in full every month. But for the last six months of 1945 an adjustment will be made to avoid duplication of benefits. The table below shows the effect of this adjustment and will enable taxpayers to determine the extent to which they will benefit from Family Allowances.

TABLE SHOWING EFFECT OF ADJUSTMENT FOR 1945

NOTE:—This table applies to married persons and others having the status of married persons for income tax purposes. For the relatively small number of single persons supporting children and not having married status for income tax purposes, and for members of the Armed Forces, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

The BENEFITS: The Family Allowances Act was passed to help equalize opportunities for all children. The monthly allowances will assist in providing medical, dental and nursing services, better food, better clothing and shelter.

Family Allowances are additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

Furthermore, Family Allowances are NOT taxable. You do not add these monthly payments to your total income when computing your income tax.

In the column at left is an explanation of the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax deductions for children. From the table given you can determine quickly the extent to which you will benefit.

REGISTER NOW!

If you intend to apply for Family Allowances but have not already done so, please act at once—in the interests of your children. Remember, the first cheques will be mailed in July, but only to those who have registered and are eligible to receive Family Allowances.

SCALE OF MONTHLY ALLOWANCES FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN

For each child
Under 6 ..... $5.00
From 6 to 9 (inclusive) ..... 6.00
From 10 to 12 (inclusive) ..... 7.00
From 13 to 15 (inclusive) ..... 8.00

Where there are more than four children under 16 in the family, the monthly allowance for each child after the fourth will be reduced in accordance with the provisions of the Family Allowances Act.

MUTUAL HARVEST ASSISTANCE BETWEEN CANADA AND UNITED STATES

A special arrangement between Canada and United States for mutual harvest assistance in the Prairie provinces and the mid-western United States has again been put into operation. It was announced today by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

"It would be difficult to estimate how many combines will cross the border between the two countries," he said, "as the size of the harvest is yet very uncertain. The arrangement, however, will enable a number of machines with crews to take part in the movement with a minimum of formality when they are needed. A similar arrangement has been in operation during the past few harvest seasons in order to make the fullest use of farm labour and equipment for wartime harvesting in the two countries."

This year Canadian operators with their crews and equipment may enter United States as early as June 1st. The latest date for the return is September 15th. Later in the month when Canadian harvesting commences the United States crews and equipment may enter Canada and be permitted to remain until December 31st.

Late Blight of Potatoes

In 1847, ninety thousand Irish people set out for Canada. Two thousand died on the way. Many others emigrated to the United States. In an 18-month period (1846-47) relief costs, in Ireland, amounted to nearly forty million dollars, and the relief was far from generous. Suffering in Ireland was appalling.

This unhappy state of affairs was brought about by a fungous disease of potatoes known as "Late Blight." At that time the cause of the disease was unknown and while plant scientists argued, worried and experimented, the Irish people went hungry. Serious losses also were suffered in England and western continental Europe.

Today, we know how to control this disease. Serious damage has been common in central and southern Manitoba for the last three or four years, and local infestations have been recorded in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Therefore, all potato growers should be on the lookout and be prepared to employ measures for control. Line Elevators agents have been provided with a supply of illustrated circulars in which the disease is clearly described and control methods outlined.

Control is comparatively simple and cheap. Ask the local elevator agent for Line Elevators Farm Service Circular No. 8—Summarized from information provided by Dr. J. E. Machacek, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Winnipeg.
